

We are committed to providing the highest level of protection for your online privacy and security. As you explore our website, we encourage you to provide us with information about yourself, so we can contact you with the latest news about Todd McMurtry's congressional campaign. However, you will always be able to decide how much, if any, personal information you'd like to provide. And you will always be able to unsubscribe from our email database quickly and easily through the link provided at the bottom of every email that we send.

If you choose to donate through our online contribution form, rest assured we have taken every reasonable precaution to keep you and your billing information safe and secure. To comply with Federal election law and the regulations of the Federal Election Commission, we are required to make our best efforts to collect and report the name, mailing address, occupation and name of employer of individuals. Generally, contributions are non-refundable. Should you choose to contribute, you will receive an email confirmation of your contribution.

We use cookies to personalize and enhance the interactivity of McMurtryForCongress.com and to make sure you have the best possible experience online. A cookie is a very small text file that is placed on your hard drive. Cookies do not contain any personal information about you. You can opt-out of our use of cookies by disabling cookies on your browser.
